

US Air Force Drops “so help me God” Requirement in Oaths

Published September 20, 2014

A minor victory for American secularism was scored in the courts, but one that could set a precedent for other institutions to follow. The Locke and Milton-inspired Enlightenment values that influenced the American revolution will hopefully continue fighting for, as Thomas Jefferson coined it, “a wall of separation between church and state”. We give a horned salute to the airman whose Luciferian sense of rebellion took him to this victory. Let our schools, our legislative halls, and all publicly-owned grounds heed the Air Force’s example. Onward!

—Warlock Darren Deicide

More

- secularism
- separation of church and state
- submission
- third side intelligence
- us airforce
- warlock darren deicide