DUST STORM of the APOCALYPSE: Towering WALL of dust smothers Phoenix in monster monsoon

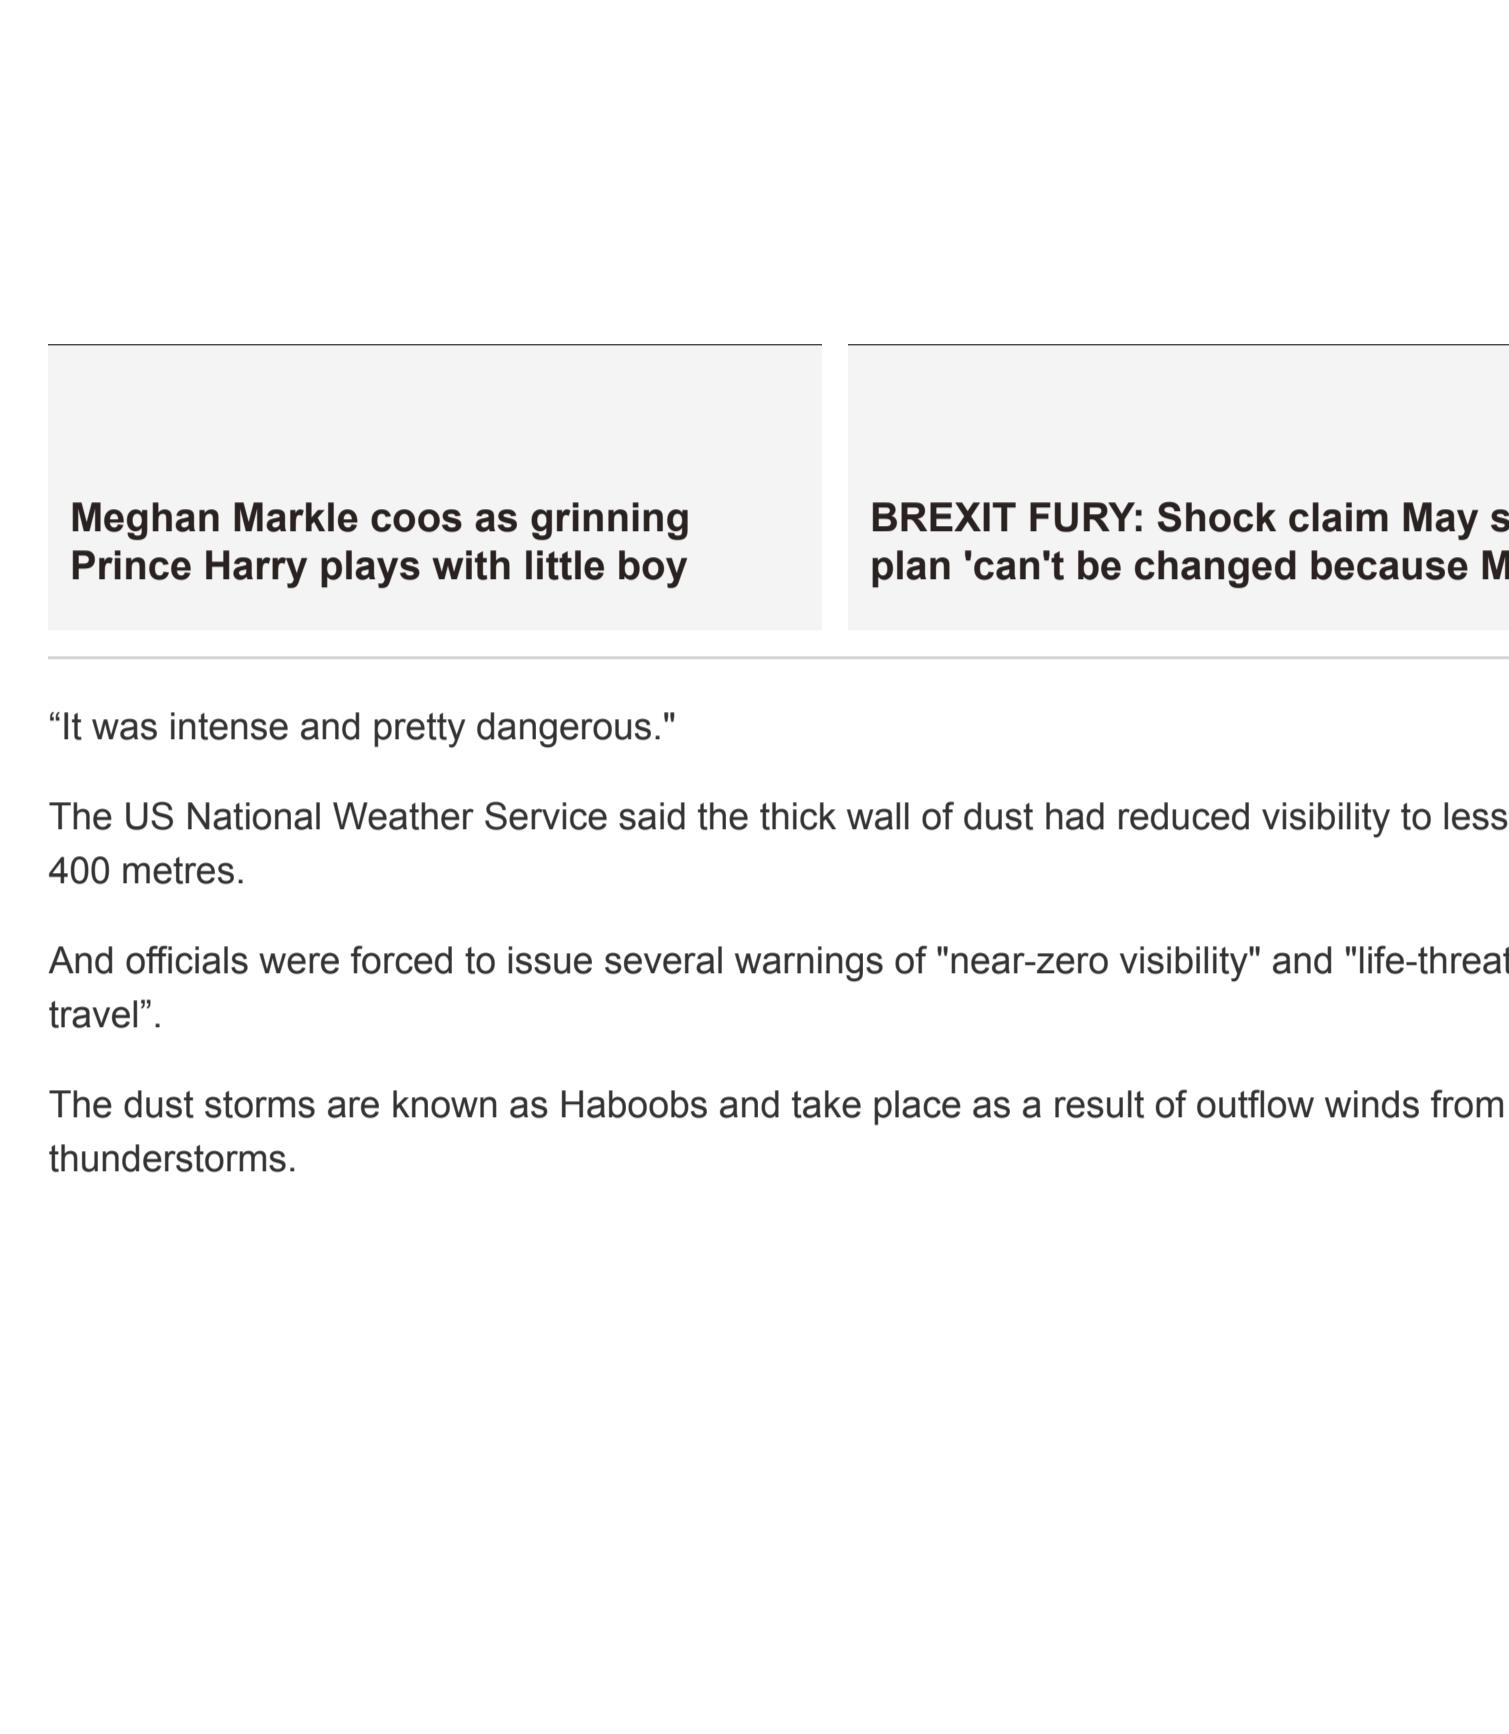

A TOWERING apocalyptic wall of dust has been captured barreling through the Arizona desert after the US state was slammed by a monster monsoon.

INCREDIBLE dust storm forms in Arizona desert

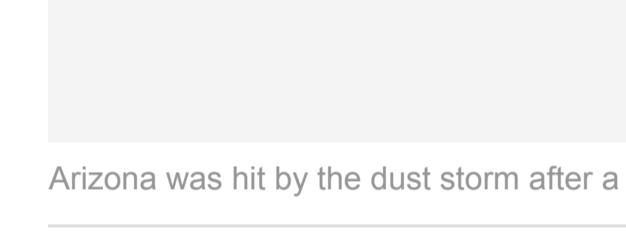

The incredible footage shows the moment the capital of Phoenix was swallowed by a massive dust storm, triggered by a monsoon packed with thunder and lightning, high winds and rain.

As winds rippled through at an estimated 50 to 75mph, daylight was turned to darkness for more than an hour as the dust storm smothered the roads of the Arizona highway.

Shocking videos show the wall of dust as it engulfs portions of the state and the blue sky quickly turns to orange as it is turned into darkness.

Professional storm chaser Mike Obilinski, who filmed the footage, said: "The dust storm was so bad everyone stopped driving on the road."
