Squash in Egypt

Talk

Article

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Squash is a popular sport in Egypt.

As of 2018, Egypt was a squash superpower. [1] It has been producing top players since the 1930s, and it is believed that former president Hosni Mubarak, a keen player himself, gave it a major boost in the 1990s. [2] It has also been said that the current success is the result of an investment in the sport of Egyptian society as a whole.[3]
