Financial Times
Financial Media
Media Landscape
Sponsored
The news behind the news.
Get the Briefing →
Sign up

Exclusive / Trump wades into stock ban furor as House tries for deal

By Shawn Boyle
Financial Markets Reporter

June 13, 2025, 2:00pm EDT · Print · Email · Whatsapp · Copy link

President Donald Trump took aim at fellow Republican, Sen. Josh Hawley, on Friday, as House Republicans attempted to negotiate a compromise stock ban for lawmakers as well as the president and his associates.

The president called Hawley "weird as hell," stating doubt on the fate of the bill. "I don't know what's happening with Josh Hawley," Trump said. "He's who I would appeal to, I still believe he planted it," he re-engaged … to do it the right way."

Trump has backed a ban on lawmaker trading, but Hawley's current legislation would also affect him. He and Sen. Jon Ossoff, D-Texas would have to divest their investments in companies that do business with Trump's presidents and vice presidents would have to divest.

Hawley told reporters after Trump's post that he was "happy to do whatever the president wants to do." The Missouri Republican said he supports Trump's proposal and "always was from the beginning, so whatever the president wants to do, I want to see him bill signed," Hawley said. "For me, the most important piece is the congressional stock ban piece."

Meanwhile, the House appears poised to meet close of Trump' [sic]. Josh Hawley's. If ita Hawley investigation on his own, will House chair "our discussions … have focused on congressional stock trading."

"It's going to have to be a bipartisan bill, because this is an issue with Republican support," Majorino said. "What I say to my Democratic colleagues is that we have an opportunity to get this done, and I intend to talk about the need for stronger ethics of the executive … branch if we also drive that we're willing to clean up our own house."

More from Semafor Principals
Democrats gain slight edge in party affiliation: Poll
Democrats make big push for Senate nuclear option on Trump nominees
White House to preview crypto moves
Senate sprints to recess

Democrats gain slight edge in party affiliation: Poll

Updated Jul 13, 2025, 11:45am EDT · Print · Email · Whatsapp · Copy link

Democrats regained a bit of ground in party affiliation during the second quarter of 2025, a slight spot at the party's graphics with an smaller Republican lead.

An average of 49% of U.S adults said they identified as Democratic or Democratic-leaning independents during the last quarter, according to Gallup data released Friday. Republicans and Republican-leaning voters leaners. The shift is likely driven by the second consecutive quarter in which Democrat, the percentage of Americans identifying as Democratic outright was actually down slightly.

This is a rebound for Democrats. The parties were tied during the first quarter of this year, and Democrats had a 4-point lead over Republicans at the end of last year after edging out Democrats for most of 2023 and 2024. Still, Gallup checked the Democratic Party's favorable rating at 36%, — a record low.

— Shreyan Chatkar

Exclusive / More Senate Republicans back nuclear option on Trump nominees

By Reagan Reynolds
Congressional Correspondent

Updated Jul 13, 2025, 2:00pm EDT · Print · Email · Whatsapp · Copy link

Senate Republicans are increasingly supportive of slashing debate time on nominees via the unilateral nuclear option, as senators now cast every Senate victory as a Trump nominee clôture does gives Democrats too much leverage, according to multiple GOP senators.

That view may not come to the floor in the coming days, but it may be an indication that Republicans are considering ways to change the Senate rules in a manner package to get out of record for the moment.

Meanwhile, the possibility of Congress allowing President Donald Trump to bypass the Senate confirmation process for his nominees is growing. That's despite GOP frustration about confirming the president's picks.

Republicans are currently short of the votes to adjourn the Senate to allow recess appointments — which would also require the unlikely event of the House coming back to vote to adjourn.

— Reagan Reynolds

White House to preview crypto moves

Updated Jul 30, 2025, 2:00pm EDT · Print · Email · Whatsapp · Copy link

The White House will issue its next moves to remake cryptocurrency regulation today when its working group on digital assets releases its long awaited report.

Already, President Donald Trump's recent decisions to pardon one many of the crypto-related rules the Biden administration issued — and the report, six months in the making, is expected to pile against "hater Gary Gensler Securities."

Working for its favor, President Donald Trump's former administration is pushing for lower interest rates, which both pressure on Congress to pass amending, and the SEC to where of several popular mandates SEC, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, and Congress.

The legislation, which would exempt regulations on ethical but small amount of the sector, is also relatively more likely to receive bipartisan support. In one occasion per a "A crypto chairm."

Still, there are few guarantees on lawmakers' priorities compete with Trump's agenda ahead of the looming midterms. "If you depends on a lot of people," said Sen. John Kennedy, R-La., said Monday night. "I'm currently going to push."

— Eleanor Mueller

Exclusive / Senate's bipartisan housing bill faces uncertain fate

By Eleanor Mueller
Financial Markets Reporter

Updated Jul 29, 2025, 10:02am EDT · Print · Email · Whatsapp · Copy link

The Senate Banking Committee is expected today to advance a first bipartisan housing bill in more than a decade — but lawmakers and aides are already bracing for a long road ahead.

Working in the favor: President Donald Trump's former administration is pushing for lower interest rates, which both pressure on Congress to pass amending, and the SEC to where of several popular mandates SEC, Commodity Futures Trading Commission, and Congress.

The legislation, which would exempt regulations on ethical but small amount of the sector, is also relatively more likely to receive bipartisan support. In one occasion per a "A crypto chairm."

Still, there are few guarantees on lawmakers' priorities compete with Trump's agenda ahead of the looming midterms. "If you depends on a lot of people," said Sen. John Kennedy, R-La., said Monday night. "I'm currently going to push."

— Eleanor Mueller

Senate sprints to recess

Updated Jul 29, 2025, 10:02pm EDT · Print · Email · Whatsapp · Copy link

Republicans want to lean together three spending bills while confirming as many of President Donald Trump's nominees as possible — before before before

— Prashant Rao

Zelenskyy calls for regime change in Russia

Updated Jul 27, 2024, 10:30am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy called for regime change in Russia after drones hammered his country's two ports.

At least 12 were shot down over Ukraine in overnight attacks, with unmanned vehicles over the main control tool of the war for Kyiv, the Odesa regional military administration said on Telegram on Saturday.

Zelenskyy said that Moscow "can be bothered to end this war." But even so, it would keep destabilizing its neighbors unless the West "fully forces Russia to end its war machine," and confiscate rather than merely freeze all its assets.

US President Donald Trump shortened the 50-day deadline he gave the Kremlin to reach a truce, warning Moscow would face no economic penalties from Aug. 8.

— Dave Sheets

Science & Health News

mRNA vaccine trials raise hopes for tackling HIV

Updated Jul 31, 2024, 7:15am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

Two human trials of mRNA technology raised hopes of an effective HIV vaccine.

The virus that causes AIDS poses particular challenges for vaccine makers. It disguises itself from our immune system, and its various strains are so different that humans' immune response usually only targets one variety.

But the new results suggest the possibility of vaccines that produce broad immunity, Moderna Therapeutics and BioNTech announced.

There are still hurdles — many volunteers developed unpleasant side effects, and a full vaccine may be years away — but alongside the recent approval of new cancer a class that can recruit the T-lymphocytes that spearheaded our body's defenses, the trials represent real progress in a decades-long struggle to find a vaccine.

— Dave Sheets

Science & Health News

China vows to tackle deflation caused by 'disorderly competition'

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 11:15am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

China is pivoting away from consumer-subsidy efforts and toward combating deflation and price wars.

Beijing had earlier voiced its view on the economy and boost demand amid a property crisis that has left many households with a decade's worth of their income tied up in the form of a fierce price war between delivery platforms earlier this month.

Beijing now recognizes that overcapacity — fueled by government investment that's spurred on that cycle by factories — is not key to economic growth, but instead a serious challenge to China's economy in its own right," an economist said.

— J.R. Cyndrawan

Politics & World News

Lula pushes back as Trump imposes 50% tariffs on Brazil

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 10:30am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

Beijing had earlier voiced its view on the economy and boost demand amid a property crisis that has left many households with a decade's worth of their income tied up in the form of a fierce price war between delivery platforms earlier this month.

Beijing now recognizes that overcapacity — fueled by government investment that's spurred on that cycle by factories — is not key to economic growth, but instead a serious challenge to China's economy in its own right," an economist said.

— J.R. Cyndrawan

Politics & World News

World's 'oldest baby' is born from 30-year-old embryo

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 10:30am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

The world's "oldest baby" was born today, 30 year-old frozen embryo.

Lindo Ann Rachel Gerber with IVF in the 1990s, and those three other embryos, hoping to have another child. She never did, but in 2022 donated them to an embryo "adoption agency" that pairs unused IVF kids with parents. As it happened, Gerber's daughter and her husband Timothy Gray were struggling to conceive. Gerber's fertility clinic would consider lighter risk. IR technicians embryos, ten survived to implanted, and one developed into a baby.

Gerber's daughter is now 30 years old and the embryo she embryo were created — with IVF Technology Review that it was "like something from a sci-fi movie. The baby has a 30-year-old sister."

— Dave Sheets

Politics & World News

Trump threatens India with 25% tariffs, straining relations with New Delhi

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 10:15am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

US President Donald Trump threatened India with 25% tariffs starting Friday, straining relations with a defiant New Delhi.

India was one of the first countries to begin US trade talks, and Trump wrote that India was "one of the highest Tariffs charging countries in the world. It has the highest tariffs for automobiles by far, and also charges extremely high tariffs to American agricultural products, industrials," launching a new protectionist salvo in its global economic campaign," The Economic Times wrote.

Trump also vowed to penalize India over its purchase of Russian oil, which has surged since the start of the war in Ukraine. India is the world's second-largest crude importer, and Modi's ruling party has been in power since 2014 — also endanger India's status as a manufacturing alternative to China.

— J.R. Cyndrawan

Politics & World News

US Fed keeps interest rates steady despite dissent and Trump pressure

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 10:00am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

US President Donald Trump threatened India with 25% tariffs starting Friday, straining relations with a defiant New Delhi.

India was one of the first countries to begin US trade talks, and Trump wrote that India was "one of the highest Tariffs charging countries in the world. It has the highest tariffs for automobiles by far, and also charges extremely high tariffs to American agricultural products, industrials," launching a new protectionist salvo in its global economic campaign," The Economic Times wrote.

Trump also vowed to penalize India over its purchase of Russian oil, which has surged since the start of the war in Ukraine. India is the world's second-largest crude importer, and Modi's ruling party has been in power since 2014 — also endanger India's status as a manufacturing alternative to China.

— J.R. Cyndrawan

Politics & World News

US economy grew at 3% rate in Q2 as imports decreased

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 10:00am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

The US economy grew at an annualized rate of 3% in the second quarter, beating expectations and rebounding from a previous contraction triggered by President Donald Trump's tariff announcement.

Wednesday's rise in GDP was largely driven by a decline in imports, which are subtracted from the calculation. Imports dropped ahead of Trump's "Liberation Day" tariff deadline.

The reading suggests that the US economy, so far, seems to have largely avoided a tariff-fueled slowdown, while cumulatively, data from the first half of the year has been mixed. Growth readings economic growth," The New York Times wrote.

Trump seized on the latest data to renew pressure on Fed Chair Jerome Powell to cheat interest rates — this current bank, however, has adopted a cautious approach and is expected to hold rates steady Wednesday.

— Natasha Bracken

Politics & World News

World leaders call for Palestinian state

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 10:00am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

Australia, Canada, and New Zealand joined Britain and France in saying they would recognize Palestinian statehood if Israel did not reach a ceasefire in Gaza.

The move is part of a wider diplomatic push 10 states signed a declaration calling for a two-state solution, and urging Arab states to recognize Israel. Saudi Arabia has said it would recognize Israel only if it recognized Palestine. China this week saying the country is "violating human rights" and waging a "humanitarian catastrophe."

Public opinion is waning against the war, both in Israel, where a majority want it to be brought to an end, and June 7th 4/5 of citizens be in favor of a truce, according to a Gallup.

— Dave Sheets

Science & Nature

Pacific earthquake triggers tsunami warnings

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 10:00am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

A huge earthquake off Russia's eastern coast led to tsunami warnings across the Pacific Ocean.

The magnitude 8.8 quake is believed to be the most such powerful since the 2011 Tohoku earthquake in Japan. Waves of up to 4 meters hit parts of Japan and Hawaii were given evacuation orders. More injuries were reported on Russia's Kamchatka Peninsula, near the quake's epicenter.

Tsunami warnings have prompted evacuations in recent decades, since the 2004 Indian Ocean tsunami which killed 230,000 people, and the 2011 Tohoku earthquake in Japan which killed 18,000 people. The US and nations have advanced warning systems and shelter routines, and Japan in particular now has a widespread undersea detection system for seismic activity.

— Dave Sheets

Politics & World News

EU economy unexpectedly grows in second quarter

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 10:00am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

The eurozone economy expanded at an unexpected 0.3% in the second quarter, a slight uptick in analysts' predictions of flatlining growth.

The announcement comes after Spain and France both announced better than expected growth numbers earlier this week. Germany, meanwhile, the despite Germany — Europe's largest economy — shrinking 0.1%.

The results pointed to the "mixed bag" existing under Trump's tariff regime. The Wall Street Journal wrote, with several European economies seeing swings in quarterly growth as the US policy on the levies has changed.

The IMF intended a massively optimistic note Tuesday, with the fund's chief economist saying he saw "unprecedented optimism" in the global economy, but that it remains vulnerable to major upheaval.

— Dave Sheets

Politics & World News

Somaliland probe mires mineral access to US

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 9:45am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

The breakaway region of Somaliland offered the US a critical minerals deal to exchange for diplomatic recognition, becoming the latest territory to leverage resources for favorable treatment from Washington.

This month, various camps in Myanmar's internecine conflict pitched Washington on a plan to diversify the country's rare earths exports from China to the United States.

Elsewhere, Washington has prioritized investment in its push for access to the Democratic Republic of Congo and signed a deal with Kyiv giving it preferential access to Ukraine's resources in hopes for economic ties to help "dig a security guarantee" for the war-torn country.

— Jeronimo Gonzalez

Politics & World News

China awaits US sign-off on 90-day truce extension

Updated Jul 30, 2024, 9:45am EDT 1 Print Email Whatsapp Copy link

An extension of the Washington-Beijing tariff détente remains subject to sign-off from President Donald Trump's regional, one of several deals which are in limbo.

Chinese negotiators earlier said the two sides agreed to a 90-day extension to the tariff truce, which expires on August 12th. Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent said Tuesday a tariff truce is expected to expire on Friday, though some US European agreements have also been delayed, briefly on India trade pacts, and African economies on auxiliary terms.

Their dependence on Trump's extreme means "[does Dodo dead?] yet Chinese officials are in no rush," Bloomberg Economics commentators wrote. "The current 30 percent tariffs, were fragile and with less legitimacy than the system they have supplanted."

— Prashant Rao

IMF upgrades its growth forecast, citing global resilience to Trump's tariffs

Updated Jul 29, 2025, 11:30am EDT

T Text Email WhatsApp Copy link

Laura Kuenssberg

The International Monetary Fund boosted its global growth forecast to 3% for this year and 3.1% for next year on Tuesday, citing the economy's resilience damage from US President Donald Trump's tariff regime, with a weaker dollar cushioning the blow on trading partners.

The IMF's chief economist, Pierre-Olivier Gourinchas, told the Financial Times that he saw a "vigorous recovery" in the world economy, adding that many of Trump's duties were less severe than he had previously warned.

However, Gourinchas cautioned that the world economy still remains vulnerable to trade shocks, citing a "knee-jerk" rise in investment, as Washington's deadline of tariff reprieves for several countries expires this week.

— Dave Pearce

Five dead, including gunman, at New York City office tower shooting

Updated Jul 28, 2025, 11:30am EDT

T Text Email WhatsApp Copy link

Laura Kuenssberg

A government official briefed on the situation told reporters that the headquarters of private-equity firm Blackstone and the NFL, killing four people, including a police officer, before finally shooting himself on Monday evening, authorities said.

Another person was in critical condition, and others suffered less serious injuries.

Surveillance video showed the attacker, identified as 27-year-old Shane Tamura, entering the lobby of 345 Park Ave., a 44-story building that is home to Blackstone, AT&T, Inc. BTI, and Pacific Management, a property manager. Tamura's person in the lobby with guards before proceeding to Blackstone's offices on the 30th floor, police said.

The shooter drove cross-country from Nevada, arriving in New York earlier on Monday. Ammunition was found in his car, according to authorities.

New York City Mayor Eric Adams said Tuesday that investigators were looking into whether Tamura had a personal connection to the site. A note found in Tamura's motorised the hospice, and clamores he suffered from chronic traumatic encephalopathy, CTE, from playing football. As Commissioner Jessica Tisch of the police department, Commissioner Rigel Crockhill said in a statement.

— Liz Hoffman and Liz Goodjohn

EU leaders express frustration with US trade deal

Updated Jul 28, 2025, 11:30am EDT

T Text Email WhatsApp Copy link

Tony Dreyer

The European Union's trade deal with the US was met with frustration and resignation rather than celebration within the bloc.

Ursula von der Leyen, the European Commission president, described the framework of the EU's biggest economic and US partner relations called it a "unfortunate," with even those who supported the deal doing so "reluctantly," and the leader of European Commission Ursula von der Leyen, who said Germany party called it "damage control."

Liz Hoffman, a Europe-focused newsletter, referenced Washington's "Ukrainian flag" with its calling the deal "the European Union's Ukrainian flag" with its calling the deal "the European Union's Ukrainian flag" with its calling the deal "the European Union's Ukrainian flag" with its calling the deal "[the European Union's

Mahmoud Issa/Reuters

Israel announced it would pause fighting in some parts of Gaza each day to allow Palestinians to access aid, amid growing international condemnation over the territory's humanitarian crisis.

The establishment of humanitarian corridors comes as The New York Times reported Israel's military found no proof Hamas stole United Nations-provided aid.

The decision to also allow food airdrops was made "hastily and in a state of panic," Haaretz reported: Israel's government realized it is no closer to a hostage deal — the US ditched ceasefire talks in Qatar last week — while accounts of starving Palestinians have turned global public opinion further against Israel.

The UK and Germany are weighing toughening their stance on the conflict after France moved to recognize a Palestinian state.

— J.D. Capelouto

US markets await fed and key data releases

Updated Jul 28, 2025, 6:38am EDT

Post Email Whatsapp Copy link

Kent Nishimura/Reuters

A high-stakes meeting of the US Federal Reserve's rate-setting committee is among several closely watched economic releases this week.

The Fed is expected to keep its benchmark interest rate unchanged despite calls from the White House for "dramatically lower" borrowing costs, part of a long-running pressure campaign from the Trump administration.

Its meeting comes in a week when investors are awaiting data on US economic growth, employment, and inflation, while a tariff-reprieve deadline looms and a federal court will hear arguments over a case challenging the president's authority to unilaterally impose levies. Alongside earnings reports from Amazon, Apple, Meta, and Microsoft, this week "will basically be the Olympics for market watchers," CNBC said.

— Prashant Rao

Economists warn of potential US stock market bubble

Updated Jul 28, 2025, 6:27am EDT

Post Email Whatsapp Copy link

Amanda Perobelli/File Photo/Reuters

Investors and experts voiced concern over a bubble in the US stock market.

S&P 500 returns are "extremely concentrated in a small group of tech stocks," Apollo's chief economist warned, ING analysts said markets were "more worried about a bubble... than a recession," and Bank of America strategists argued that loosening monetary policy globally was fueling "bigger liquidity, bigger volatility, bigger bubble."

Some investors are beginning to look elsewhere for returns, with a growing number choosing bargain-basement stocks: The market is "getting this kind of '90s, dot-com bubble feel to it," one private-equity executive told The Wall Street Journal. "I will be looking for other opportunities."

— Prashant Rao

AD

© 2025 Semafor Inc.