In what many view as further evidence of links between convicted sex offender Jeffrey Epstein and Mossad, leaked emails show Israeli spy stayed in his Manhattan home. Newly leaked emails reveal that a senior Israeli intelligence officer with ties to the Israeli military and Mossad stayed at Epstein's Manhattan residence on multiple occasions between 2013 and 2016.

The documents, reported by Drop Site News, add to growing evidence that Epstein was a key facilitator of sexual exploitation, elite political access and international espionage on behalf of Israeli intelligence interests.

According to the investigation, Yoni Koren—a long-time aide to former Israeli Prime Minister and Defence Minister Ehud Barak and a figure with deep ties to Israeli military intelligence—was hosted by Epstein for weeks at a time.

Koren, who remained active in Israeli intelligence networks long after his formal retirement, was engaged in brokering cybersecurity ventures and coordinating high-level meetings involving former CIA Director Leon Panetta and US defence officials.

Among the documents released are emails showing Barak instructing Epstein to wire funds to Koren's personal bank account and later coordinating an unusual hand-off of a package involving a bank card. Koren also arranged private access to the Pentagon and White House for Barak's family, allegedly via his contacts with former CIA and Department of Defence officials.

The revelations form the fourth instalment in a series published by Drop Site News, which has previously reported on Epstein's alleged involvement in brokering security agreements between Israel and Mongolia, Russia and Côte d'Ivoire. These reports challenge the long-maintained narrative that Epstein's vast network was confined to financial elites and celebrities, instead pointing toward his role as an informal operator for Israeli intelligence interests.

While speculation around Epstein's connections to intelligence services has long circulated, including earlier claims that he was protected due to those affiliations, the new material offers a rare glimpse into how deeply embedded he may have been in Israeli intelligence circles. The emails include direct communication between Barak and Epstein, discussions of bank transfers, and requests for covert operational assistance. They also show that Barak used Koren as an intermediary to share information with AMAN, Israel's military intelligence directorate.

Notably, the US Congress has so far failed to release the full Epstein files. Republican Rep Anna Paulina Luna, who has led efforts to declassify these documents, has accused House Speaker Mike Johnson of deliberately delaying a vote under pressure from President Donald Trump. The files are believed to contain material implicating powerful figures across governments, financial institutions and intelligence networks.

Koren, who passed away from cancer in 2023, was described by Barak in a eulogy as a "talented intelligence officer... with endless loyalty to the state." Barak has refused to comment on the latest allegations, as has Jeremy Bash, former CIA Chief of Staff and frequent point of contact in Koren's email correspondence.

Andrew, Epstein, Clinton, and others are choirboys compared to the greatest lecherous, institutionalized pedophile of all time.

Muhammad (Abū 'al-Qāsim Muhammad ibn 'Abd Allāh ibn 'Abd 'al-Muṭṭalib ibn Hāsim) the seducer abused, raped, and married at least 13 women, some considered spoils of war.

Among the youngest was Aisha, married according to the Hadiths at age 6 and deflowered at 9. Which goes to show that between two surahs, there's no shame in getting fun.

By 2025, it would mean at least life imprisonment with fellow inmates who would introduce him to the joy of being possessed.

Speaking of institutionalized sexual abuse, tell us about Ori Strook, that Israeli minister whose daughter in Italy accuses her and the family of ritualized sexual abuse. And tell us about that Israel prime minister whom the late Virginia Gullfere described as raping her violently, in her memoir that was recently published. And tell us of course about what happens to Palestinians in Israeli prisons, especially in Sde Teiman prison.

False.

Fact: The Prophet Muhammad (puh) preached a book that is the most read single book today. The followers of Quran are strolling towards 2 billion. These statistics would make a man, the best amongst human race. Who are you smearing? Your a genocide championing beast with no conscience. Who are you to smear?

The Bible is considered to be the most widely read book in the world today. Also the most widely distributed and the most widely discussed, translated and interpreted. OTOH Muslims maintain that one can only truly understand the Quran in the original Arabic. Translations are inauthentic and reinterpretations are considered to be unacceptable. So the number of legitimate readers of the Quran consists only of those who can read and understand Arabic, not modern Arabic but classic Arabic.

Arab illiteracy is well known. Arabs read on average 6 pages per year. Further, Muslims emphasize recitation, not understanding. As a narrative the Quran is poorly organized. The chapters are arranged not in any temporal sequence rather by length. Mohammed's earlier teachings are abrogated by his later teachings - but the lack of temporal organization obscures what the final conclusions are. To truly understand the Quran one must also be schooled in tafsir, commentary. If all Qurans were annotated with tafsir it might help understanding but few are.

Nor can the Quran be understood properly without reference to and understanding of the Biblical narrative. It contains many incomplete and frankly garbled allusions to biblical stories.

I realize that Jenny Talwart is a woman, which, by your standards, you regard her as being inferior, and worse, you see her as an infidel, whereas I see her as a human being worthy of equal treatment and respect. "Who are you to smear?" is a charge that should be applied against you, not her. As in every accusation is also a confession.

It was plagiarism and the author was an imposter (which just goes to show it's always the same people after more than 1400 years).

The Quran is a fraud that appropriates the Torah and the Gospels, stripping them of their meaning. Similarly, Mein Kampf was read by 100% of Germans during Nazism: it has been demonstrated that this does not make it true.

A work based on plagiarism would not achieve the highest global recognition even after 1,500 years. "Mein Kampf" has already withered; whereas the Qur'an remains as fresh and relevant as the time it was revealed; bold and true.

As MEMO would lose all of its male writers, and some of its female writers too. The publication would cease to exist. It would also lose readers such as you.
